

MadFish Celebrates at Chardonnay Du Monde

MadFish Wines has celebrated a Silver Medal win at the prestigious Chardonnay Du Monde in Burgundy, France for its 2006 MadFish Premium White.

The MadFish Premium White is a blend of Chardonnay, Semillon and Sauvignon Blanc and is the original wine that launched the MadFish range of wines in 1992.

It is a refreshing and easy drinking West Australian white that typifies the MadFish philosophy of producing pure, fresh and clean wines that are without pretension and without fuss.

“This wine displays a crisp, refreshing and lightly complex fruitiness complemented by a clean, fine structure that showcases the exceptional wine producing region of the lower South West of Western Australia,” says MadFish chief winemaker Tony Davis.

The 2006 MadFish Premium White was released across Australia in January 2007 and is widely available through retail outlets as well as selected restaurants and hotels.

MadFish Wines was one of only two Western Australian wineries to win an award at this year’s competition, which drew 949 wines from 38 countries.

Chardonnay Du Monde brings together the world’s best Chardonnays with the aim of showcasing the richness and diversity of Chardonnays currently being produced. Judges are drawn from all around the world to ensure that the wines are judged in an international context.

MadFish Wines was also awarded a Silver Medal for its 2004 MadFish Chardonnay at the 2006 Chardonnay Du Monde.
